The Human Footprint Index

The Human Footprint index (HF) expresses as a percentage the relative human influence in each terrestrial biome. HF values range from 0 to 100. A value of zero represents the least influenced or the most wild part of the biome with value of 100 representing the most influenced or least wild part of the biome.